Timings : 11.00 AM onwards

Target Audience : People around the college

Faculty Coordinator : Mrs. S. Vijayalaxmi,

Objective:

To create awareness regarding the issues of the general public, their daily household responsibilities and the problems they are facing, especially women's safety during the time of menstruation.

Report:

The student volunteers visited the people who are in the vicinity of the college and created general awareness and asked about the hygiene issues.

The students visited a family who sell meals (includes both veg and non veg), varieties of curries which are cooked by them and unfortunately they cook it to the side of the road due to insufficient space but their daily business runs good

Secondly, they visited a home where they found a friendly woman cooking meals as usual for her family with utmost love and affection. They spoke about the health and sanitation issues while cooking and she showed them their kitchen which was of very small size but was kept so neat and discussed the menstruation issues which they face due to the bathroom outside their homes and limited sanitary napkins.

Thirdly, they meet an old aged person who was selling mini snacks like dry mango, murukku, chagodi etc., they enquired him about his health condition and he was discussing about his routine day and the prices which were very reasonable as most of the customers belong to the school aged people and he wanted to see a pretty smile on their face as food is the top prior emotion of not only kids but of all age.

The students suggested the following:

1. The students gave awareness to the people about sanitation and hygiene and its importance in their day to day life.
2. The student gave the awareness about the usage and how to dispose of the sanitary pads to the women.
