1. Telugu Bhasha Dinotsavam-2022 (Telugu Language Day- August 29 2022.):

REPORT ON LITERARY EVENTS CONDUCTED BY TELUGU STUDENTS

DEPARTMENT OF SECOND LANGUAGES - ST. JOSEPH'S DEGREE AND PG COLLEGE.

29th August 2022 marked the 159th birth anniversary of the renowned Telugu scholar and reformer of the Telugu Language-Gidugu Venkata Ramamurthy Panthulu. Till the late 19th century, the language spoken by people and the language written in the literary works were not same. The language in literary works, referred to as “Grandhika Bhasha”, was taught in schools. Many colleges couldn't provide education to converse in this scholarly language. As a consequence, scholarship was restricted only to the ones able to understand the incomprehensible Grandhika Bhasha. Gidugu Venkata Ramamurthy Panthulu worked with contemporary linguists like Gurajada Apparao, P.T. Srinivas Iyengar and J.A. Yates to revolutionize and reform Telugu into a comprehensible “Vyaavahaarika Bhasha”. Though it was not accepted by many Pandits (Scholars) who feared this movement may defame the existing language, the visionary idea of scholars like Gidugu, Gurajada paved the way to reform Telugu Language. Gidugu dedicated his life to educate people to write in a simple language that they use to converse. With the help of the government, Gidugu issued a G.O stating students can write exams in either of the languages (Grandhika or Vyaavahaarika) in 1912. Many conferences were held between 1915 to 1940 in places like Kakinada, Rajamahendravaram, Tanuku where Vyaavahaarika Telugu language was idolized. As a result, Kakinada's Andhra Sahitya Parishad officially started to communicate using Vyaavahaarika language. Many illiterate students were able to understand and communicate using the Vyaavahaarika bhasha, which was patronized by Gidugu. Gurajada's Kanyashulkam created a huge response in supporting literary works in Vyaavahaarika Telugu. Gidugu established many newspapers and monthly magazines that used Vyaavahaarika Telugu language. Telugu, Pratibha are few magazines and Varthamana Andhra Bhasha Pravarthaka Samajam (Society to Initiate Contemporary Telugu Language) was established in 1919 under the leadership of Gidugu. Being influenced by Gidugu, Taapi Dharma rao started 'Janavaani' magazine in 1937 that used Vyaavahaarika language.

Commemorating the services rendered by visionary Gidugu Venkata Ramamurthy Panthulu, the Telugu students of St. Joseph's Degree and PG college conducted a quiz program, an essay writing competition on the glory of Telugu language and a singing competition where students exhibited their skills. Students expressed their talent in the quiz programme and participated with excitement. Students enthusiastically involved to discuss and spread the grandeur of Telugu language. Telugu Lecturer Ms. Ananthalakshmi expressed the importance of language as a medium of conversation and also described the beauty of Telugu as a medium of communication. 2. Telangana Bhasha Dinotsavam-2022 (Telangana Language Day- September 9, 2022):

DEPARTMENT OF SECOND LANGUAGES-ST. JOSEPH'S DEGREE AND PG COLLEGE.

1. Telangana Bhasha Dinotsavam-2022 (Telangana Language Day- September 9, 2022):

In 2014, The Telangana State government announced to celebrate Telangana Bhasha Dinotsavam annually on September 9, marking the 100th birth anniversary of Telangana's icon Kaloji Narayana Rao. Kaloji Narayana Rao was a Telugu poet hailing from Telangana's Telugu speaking region. Kaloji's works were influenced by the contemporary movements which included the annexation of Hyderabad Nizam into the Indian union in 1948. Kaloji believed that a pen is mightier than a sword and his works reflect his belief. Kaloji worked with contemporary leaders and linguists like Maadapati Hanumantha Rao, Suravaram Prathapa Reddy, Boorgula Ramakrishna Rao and P.V. Narasimha Rao in many movements and protests. As a student Kaloji condemned Nizam's rule and celebrated GaneshaChavithi and was banned from the city when he tried to hoist the Indian flag in the Warangal Fort. Kaloji helped students who were expelled from the Osmania university as they were participating in the Indian Freedom Struggle by sending them to the Nagpur university. Kaloji openly opposed Nizam rule in Hyderabad state and organized conferences with the help of Andhra Saraswatha Parishad to protest against the ridiculous rule of Razakars. He served as the Vice President for the Telangana Writers Association and as a member of the legislative council for one term. The Indian Government conferred him with the Padma Vibhushan award in 1992. Kaloji was affectionately addressed as Praja Kavi (People’s Poet) by the people of Telangana. Kaloji strongly wanted everyone to write their works in their own dialect of Telugu. He believed that spoken language is always better than language learnt in schools. Kaloji dreamt every village to have a library and was active in the library movement across India. He expired on November 13th of 2002.

Remembering Kaloji’s love and care towards the oppressed people, the Telugu students of St. Joseph’s conducted an event on his 108th birth anniversary. Commemorating the glory and legacy of Kaloji’s life, struggle, contribution to the language, leadership skills and many qualities the elocution and drawing competitions by the students presented a perfect tribute to the People’s Poet. Students expressed their views of writing Telugu in the dialect they use to speak. Kaloji’s works like NaaGodava (My Pandemonium) were talked about and his opinion of using English instead of Telugu and local languages was also discussed. Students from various institutions also participated actively and made the celebrations successful. Some of the images here remind us of the event:
